

Cameron Scadding – Executive Chairman, Source Certain International Pty Ltd

Cameron Scadding is a Forensic and Analytical Chemist by training, an expert in his discipline with extensive complex investigation experience. He has specific experience and possesses expertise regarding supply chain security and managing supply chain risks. With his extensive executive experience, Cameron is a sought-after consultant and an experienced and respected business leader, with skills in packaging complex scientific approaches and technologies for broad application in the market (commercialisation).

Cameron is a founder and the CEO of TSW Analytical Pty Ltd.; a Perth based scientific investigation service and technology company that has been operating since 2006. He also serves as a Director of TSW Global (a global investment business specialising in technology commercialisation) and eReveal Technologies (a digital forensic and e-Discovery software solution provider). Cameron has previously held senior research positions in both academia and the private sector, and served as a Director of a not-for-profit sporting organization.

