

EcoStock

LONG TERM VISION

EcoStock's long term vision is to be the catalyst that partners with industry and its communities to bring science and technology to waste goods, resulting in sustainably recycling these into valuable resources and improving New Zealand's environment.

FROM FACTORY TO FARM

We recover surplus materials from food manufacturers, food distributors and food retailers and turn them into nutritionally balanced, high performance animal feed ingredients that are environmentally friendly, cost effective and increase productivity.

By recovering and recycling these nutritious resources we help prevent unwanted food finding its way into landfills. While your surplus can become quality feed to livestock, you are also able to save costs and boost your environmental credentials.