

GoTerra

GoTerra is an Australian based livestock feed company turning food waste, into feed security, using insects. Our technology offers significant opportunity for Primary Producers and Municipalities to valorise their organic waste to create a high value sustainable livestock feed and waste management solutions.